An Expensive Football

Branch Office in Madisonville, Kentucky, Miss Lucy Faucett, Manager,

A New York bank president was discussing the business outlook, "I have talked today," he said, "with an unusually large number of railroad men in the regular course of the day's business and everyone of them says he is cutting expenses to the bone, er ones have vanished entirely. It that these small brothers and sisters They are afraid to spend money. Afraid! Scared, if you will, for is seldom that more than an ounce of Thomas Jefferson, who was not very they haven't the courage to go out and authorize and make the necessary expenditures. Now all or most of this is due to Washington. The railroad managements do not see anything very hopefol in the future. They are being kicked about like a football. Look at this bulletin. This shows that operated mileage of main guarantee of money back if it fails ed with dinner for himself and the othtrack in this country totals 244,179 miles and second tracks and sidings 116,179 miles more. The money invested is $20,000,000,000 WILL BUILD MAMY or fifty times the cost of the Panama Canal, and about one-eighth of the total wealth of the country.

"These railroads, according to the Wall Street Journal, are owned by 500,000 stockholders. They employ 1,668,809 individuals or an average of one in every twelve of the population of this country either works for the railroads or is dependent upon one who does. The wages paid out total $1,300,000,000 annually and taxes ammout to approximately $130,000,000 annually. Passengers carried in 1913 were approximately 1,000,000,000 or the equivalent of twelve trips for every man, woman and child in the United States. Freight carried one mile in 1913 was 253,783,701,000 tons or an average of almost 3,000 tons for every man, woman and child in the country. Now, it strikes me that is a pretty expensive and dangerous football to kick recklessly.

FOREST NOTES

Nearly 4,000 acres were reforested in Montana and northern Idaho during 1913, at an average cost of $7.50 an acre.

The best forrested area of China is in Manchuria. The princi pal tree varieties are pine, cedar, larch, fir, vew, oak, ash, elm, walnut and birch.

Two forest officers, in Washington and Oregon, are writing popular descriptions of the trees on the Crater and Mt. Rainier national parks, for the use of visitors to the parks.

Gannett Peak, Wyoming, nearly 14,000 feet in elevation, and the highest mountain in the state, is on the divide between the Bonneville and Bridger national

In northern Arizona, Ctah, Nevada, southern Idaho, and western Wyoming, the fires on national forests set by campers have decreased in 4 years, from nearly a third to approximately que-fifth. Lightning fires have increased from less than onefourth to nearly one-half. The relatively larger proportion from lightning, however, is due partly to decrease in other causes.

busy to notice that he took the plate from the table and returned with it empty. Then he set about helping the pudding. When one is very hungry and has one's mouth set for turkey and substantial good things, even delicious plum pudding does not quite satisfy. But Thomas Jefferson, remembering the carol, tried to imagine that he felt quite full. He did feel very glad to have helped some one on this glad day and so played with the new games all afternoon with a right good will.

But the amount of corn bread and bacon he devoured at supper time made his mammy exclaim, "Well, it do beat all, Thomas Jefferson, how much boys can ent after all that Christmas
